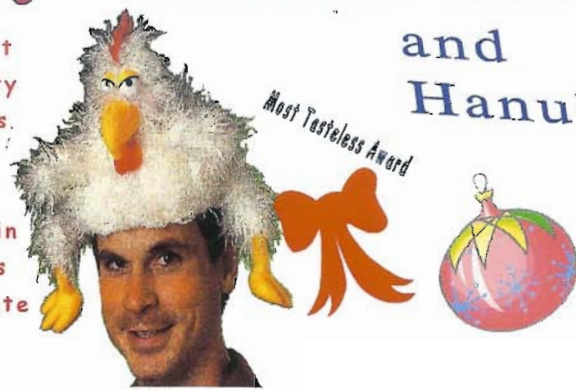
The Zumwacker 2006 Christmas Catalogue and Hanukkah

All items are real!

Uncle Marty thought his vulgar peronsality would attract chicks. Well, it did and he made it into a hat. Now he's not alone in the psych unit. This model comes complete with commitment papers.



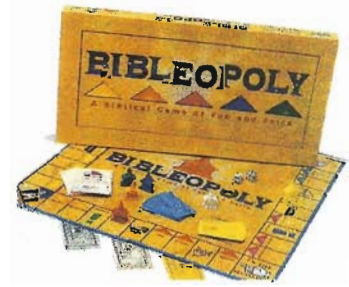
The perfect gift for a nasal, hirsute, gentleman, (or Older Russian Woman). Everyone will think he's picking his nose when he's really trimming the hairs. So clever you could barf!

We can't think of a more fun and educational toy. Pull the cow's tail and it poops chocolate. Don't ask for milk!

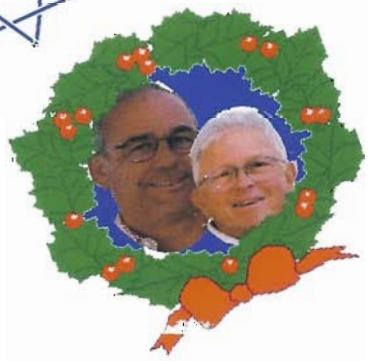
Finally, a chance to really celebrate the holidays, by eliminating into Frosty's head. Be careful of that carrot!

Aunt Gertrude loved her corn-on-the-cob. She also loved Schulzy, her dachsund. After Schulzy had a litter she immortalized them by turning them into Corn Picks. Now you can change your favorite pet into an eating utensil! (Large pets can only be transformed into garden tools.)

Do not land on Sodom or Gomorrah or you'll be turned into a pillar of salt. Build condominiums on Mount Masada and get rich, but land on the Wailing Wall and you go straight to hell and don't pass Eden. Finally, a fun game for the religious far right, but still another supid adaptation of Monopoly.



No more bunny slippers for your kids. Put on these mop slippers, toss a snicker bar and make them clean the floors while Mommy takes a chablis and ciggy break.



Happy Holidays from Mike and John
