The Zumwacker 2013 Christmas Catalogue and Hanukkah

All items are real!

It's elegant! It's designer! It's inflatable and floatable! That's right, this inflatable dress will float like a boat when you get so drunk you plunge into the swimming pool. (One size fits all.)

Most Tasteless Award

The perfect weapon and the perfect treat all in one! A frozen popsicle Axe. Just bludgeon your enemy and then eat the weapon. Alfred Hitchcock, eat your heart out...

A must have for those who love the Wizard of Oz: The Wicked Witch of the West's leg lamp! Turn it on and the flying monkeys flock to it like flies to ... You know what we mean.

What better way to save than by shoving a coin in a puppy's mouth and watching it poop that coin into the bank! Perfect gift for the frugal person in your life who hates watching his money go down the toilet.

The Edible Clothing Division of Zumwacker introduces Bread Shoes. Slip into these toasty warm shoes, walk around some dropped butter and then snack a little. Mmmm. Comes in wheat, rye and pumpernickel (for formal occasions)

Gluten Free? Don't want to slip your tootsies into a loaf of cracked wheat? Then put on these "Tank" slippers and launch a seige on your pet hamsters.

If you want your postman to hold his hands up everytime he delivers the mail, you need to have this .44 magnum mailbox. It's better than a burglar alarm--no one is going to screw with you!

Happy Holidays from Mike and John
